

Fires Kill Nine Persons in State in Last 5 Days

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fires killed nine persons in Arkansas during the first five days of 1958, raising the state's violent death toll to 23 for the week which ended Sunday midnight.

Traffic accidents during the New Year's week killed seven. In addition and automobile-train collision killed one; two persons were accidentally asphyxiated in a car; a rock slide inside a cave claimed a life; one person drowned; another died in a hunting accident, and a police officer was shot to death with his own gun.

Three Negro children perished and two others burned critically last night when fire destroyed their 2-room frame home in Arkadelphia.

Neighbors, who rescued the survivors, told police they had to break open a locked door to reach the children, who had been left alone while their mother worked.

The three who died in their beds were identified as Larry, 3, Gary Lawrence, 4, and Robert Earl, 5 months — children of Geraldine Davis, 32. The two Davis children hospitalized — and given a 50-50 chance by physicians — were Ray, 8, and James Clark, 10.

Officers speculated a kerosene heater might have exploded and caused the fire.

Flames consumed a small house trailer in North Little Rock early yesterday, killing Dewey Green Jordan, 57, of near Jacksonville.

Fire Chief R. F. Drye said Jordan was spending the night with H. A. Williams, who escaped the fire, but that Williams failed to tell firemen that Jordan was inside.

Dr. Howard A. Dismough, coroner, ruled the death accidental. Origin of the fire was not determined.

At Eudora, a Negro deputy Marshall was killed and another man wounded seriously by a stray bullet following an argument in a restaurant Saturday night.

Marshal Walton Mathis said Henry Cable, a 35-year-old gin worker, was jailed at Lake Village in connection with the slaying of Deputy Ed Brown, 70.

Mathis gave this account of the incident: Cable resisted when Brown, a law officer for 35 years, ordered him to leave the restaurant. Brown fired his pistol once and the bullet creased Cable's lip.

Cable then wrestled the gun away from the deputy marshal and fired it several times. Brown was killed instantly and a stray bullet struck Herbert Hellum, also a Negro, in the left thigh.

Hellum was hospitalized at Lake Village where his condition was described as serious.

A young Negro couple was accidentally asphyxiated yesterday, apparently while waiting for someone to help free their car which had become mired in a ditch about seven miles east of Crossett.

The bodies of Lawrence Simpson, 22, and Mary Lou Davis, 10, both of Hamburg, were found by a passing motorist.

Ashley County Coroner Billy Jones said the couple died of carbon monoxide poisoning. He said they had permitted the engine of the car to run, but the exhaust pipe had become clogged with dirt and the auto filled with the deadly fumes.

A gas stove explosion last Sunday proved fatal to Mrs. Hattie Hon, 47, of Batesville. She died of burns Friday night.

A 2-year-old Negro boy, Rickey Manning, died in a fire Saturday which destroyed his home in El Dorado. He was the son of Mrs. Beatrice Shultz. Cause of the blaze was not known.

Fire Strikes at Eureka Springs

EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The Eureka Springs Times-Echo Building was destroyed Saturday in a fire which also gutted an apartment building and two other businesses.

Four persons in the Nu-Ark Hotel above the Times-Echo plant escaped uninjured but lost their possessions.

Cause of the fire was not known. It was first seen in an apartment building behind the newspaper office.

The blaze spread from the apartment building to the news-plant where presses and other equipment was destroyed. Offices of the Southwestern Gas & Electric Co. and the Arkansas Western Gas Co. in the same building were damaged extensively.

Firemen from Bartlett and Rogers joined the Eureka Springs Fire Department to bring the blaze under control in about three hours.

Barn, 3,000 Bales of Hay Burn

A barn containing some 3,000 bales of hay caught fire and burned completely Saturday at the Denver Daugherty farm on old Highway 67 west of Hope. Local firemen sent out a truck but could do no more than keep the blaze from spreading. Origin of the blaze could not be determined.

Stennis Hopeful Gavin Will Not Quit the Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.) voiced a hope today that Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, Army research and development chief, will change his mind and decide not to retire.

Stennis, a member of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, investigating space flight and missiles programs, said he will seek to learn whether anyone "coerced" the general into resigning.

"I hope we can develop fully the complete story of his retirement," he said.

Stennis told newsmen he thinks Gavin could be of greater service to the country in his present post than if he retired. Stennis added: "I trust it will work around so he can continue it."

Gavin, in a weekend announcement of his decision to retire, said he felt he might accomplish more for the nation's defense as a civilian. He said he would retire March 31. By that time, he will be 51 years old and will have completed 30 years of service.

Gavin made it plain his decision was a protest against the handicaps he felt there were on his work.

"I won't compromise my principles and I won't go along with the Pentagon system," Gavin said.

While House press secretary James C. Hagerty, asked today for comment on Gavin's move, replied that it was a matter "entirely up to the general." Hagerty added that President Eisenhower knew nothing about Gavin's plans to retire until he read about them in the newspapers.

Gavin's announcement brought expressions of concern from numerous members of Congress.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), a Preparedness subcommittee member, also told newsmen he wants to know whether Gavin was "coerced."

British Reveal Reaction to Pact Plan

By ARTHUR GAYSHON

LONDON (AP) — The British Foreign Office emphasized today that the East-West nonaggression pact suggested by Prime Minister Macmillan was intended only to complement wider agreements.

Macmillan proposed the pact in a political broadcast Saturday, catching the United States and other Western Allies by surprise.

A Foreign Office spokesman said Macmillan had not consulted with Western Allies before setting forth his idea. The United States is cool but some other Western powers are more receptive to the plan.

The spokesman emphasized that the pact should be part of a wider package agreement that could perhaps take in arrangements for ending the world arms race.

"What he really was saying was that we must continue to work for agreements which will be followed by deeds, that is the fulfillment of which will be proved by actions taken," the spokesman added.

"If it would assist in arriving at such agreements to have a non-aggression pact, then Her Majesty's government would feel that such a pact to complement the agreements might do some good."

The spokesman said he was offering an interpretation, not a correction, of the Prime Minister's statement.

In his speech, Macmillan recounted failures to reach a disarmament agreement with Moscow and said: "We must try again. We could start by a solemn pact of nonaggression. It would do no harm. It might do good."

Burglaries Cleared Up; Two Wrecks

Police Chief Jack Brown said today that Willie Joe Gamble, 22, Hope Negro, has been charged with burglary and grand larceny in connection with the burglary of Lingo's Grocery last July and Hall's Grocery in November.

Chief Brown said part of the loot from the burglaries had been recovered, including two revolvers, a .22 cal. rifle, a shotgun and a sports coat.

Officers also investigated two accidents over the weekend. Yesterday at Third and Pine autos driven by Theidis Palmer and William J. Camp collided with minor damage to the Camp car, and heavy damage to the Palmer vehicle. Officers charged Camp with failure to give a hand signal and charged Palmer with hazardous driving.

On South Main autos driven by Mrs. Paul Cobb and J. M. Matthews collided with very minor damage resulting, officers reported.

Adlai's Ideas Rejected, Says Sen. Humphrey

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said last night that Adlai Stevenson did not attend the recent NATO Paris conference because the Eisenhower administration flatly rejected his proposals.

He told a Democratic dinner meeting that Stevenson's effort to contribute ideas to Republican foreign policy were rejected by the "intellectual arthritis of the State Department."

Stevenson, twice the unsuccessful Democratic nominee for president, accepted an invitation to serve as a State Department consultant during the drafting of NATO conference plans.

He declined to attend the conference, however, on grounds he would be without authority and thus might be placed in the position of supporting policies with which he disagreed. He said he agreed with most administration policies for revitalizing NATO but acknowledged there were "differences between us."

Humphrey prefaced his remarks about Stevenson's NATO role by stating he wanted to say something that Stevenson himself had refused to say.

"I happen to know his suggestions were not accepted," he said. Asked about Humphrey's remarks, Stevenson said later, "I don't feel that I should make any comment at this time."

Welfare Clients Can Expect No Increase

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas' aged welfare clients can expect little or no increase in old age grants this year because state revenues are falling behind anticipated. Asst. Welfare Commissioner A. J. Moss said Saturday.

Moss made no direct reference to the Arkansas Federation of Old Folks Inc., a private organization which now is under investigation by committee of the Arkansas Legislative Council. The Federation had hinted that an increase in old age payments would be forthcoming.

The Welfare Department last year increased the grants by $8 a month. The federal state payments, which now average $42, are to some 50,000 Arkansians who are 64 or older.

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo. (AP) — Two men from Chicago left a trail of terror in the Bootheel at the southeast corner of Missouri Sunday morning before police captured them.

Sheriff Clyde Orton of Pemiscot County identified them as Joe Bradford, 25, and William Morris, about 30, both Negroes.

Sheriff Orton said they shot one victim, raped a woman, beat another and robbed a country store.

The action started at Herndon, a village of about 100 on the Arkansas line near the Mississippi River. Two men invaded the store operated by Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Smith, took $300 and a case of whiskey and "raped" Mrs. Smith.

They ran a police roadblock in a flurry of gunfire and wrecked their car in a cotton field near Steele, Mo., about five miles north of Herndon.

Morris was injured in the wreck and surrendered but Bradford escaped on foot.

Sheriff Orton said Bradford invaded a nearby farmhouse occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Everett Davis. Davis, 51, was shot in the chest and arm when he resisted. He was reported in critical condition at a hospital in Blytheville.

Arm. Mrs. Davis was beaten and also is in the hospital.

Bradford boarded a bus at Portageville, 29 miles north of Steele, after buying a ticket for Chicago. Officers intercepted the bus and took him into custody at Cape Girardeau, 64 miles north of Portageville.

Urgency Sense as Congress Meets Tuesday

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress gets back to work tomorrow in an atmosphere of urgency far different from the mood of last year's pre-Sputnik session.

Things are a lot different than they were last Aug. 30 when Senate and House adjourned after chopping 3 billion dollars from defense and foreign aid appropriations and passing the first civil rights legislation in about 80 years.

In the interim, Russia launched two earth satellites and the United States failed in its first launching attempt.

Rep. Wright (D-Tex.) summed up the new mood this way: "There is an uneasiness to get on with the job, a sense of urgency."

The two Sputniks have cast weird and grotesque shadows completely out of proportion to their actual scientific or military significance. Their real significance has been psychological. . . .

"There has been a lot of talk about this being the American century. Is it? And to the extent that it is, what are we going to do about it?"

Any subordination of political jockeying under the stress of the times may wear off under later pressures as the November elections approach. All-435 House seats and 32 of the Senate's 86 seats are up for voters' choice this year.

More than 40 committee hearings are planned during the opening week. Among them, the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee, and the House Armed Services Committee all are delving into the missiles question.

President Eisenhower's anticipated 40-billion-dollar defense budget, his science-centered education aid program, foreign aid, and other proposals will be involved in the Sputnik debate. And already there is talk of revamping the military setup.

3 American Mothers Go Into China

HONG KONG (AP) — Three American mothers crossed apprehensively into Red China today to visit their imprisoned sons — almost three years after the Communists first invited them to come.

The three mothers are: Mrs. Mary Downey, New Britain, Conn., mother of John Downey, 27. He is serving a life term. She is accompanied by her 25-year-old son William.

Mrs. Ruth Redmond, Yonkers, N. Y., mother of 38-year-old Hugh Redmond, whom she has not seen for years. He also has been sentenced to life in prison.

Mrs. Philip Fecteau, Lynn, Mass., mother of Richard Fecteau, 36, sentenced to 20 years. They are the first Americans to make a nonofficial visit to Red China with State Department sanction since the Korean War.

U. N. Secretary general Dag Hammarskjöld was accompanied by his American aide, William Rappalo on his 1955 mission to Peking.

Another American, Los Angeles Att'y A. J. Wirtz, crossed the small bridge into Red China shortly after the mothers. Traveling separately, he is seeking information to defend John Powell, former American editor of a Shanghai newspaper who is now charged with sedition. The judge told the government he would dismiss the case unless Wirtz was allowed to gather information in Red China.

Jones and Charles Jerry Jones, have received orders to report for induction into the Armed Services on January 20.

With the filing deadline still some time away, April 30, politics started stirring today when Judge U. C. Garrett notified the Star officially that he definitely will seek another term as County Judge.

New Appeals Granted to Leggett

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Circuit Judge William J. Kirby today granted condemned slayer Emmett Earl Leggett a new appeal to the Arkansas Supreme Court.

That apparently means that Leggett will not be electrocuted Friday, as scheduled, for the 1955 strangulation slaying of 14-year-old Joe King near Jacksonville.

John W. Bailey, Leggett's attorney, said he would lodge the appeal with the Supreme Court as soon as necessary documents were prepared—possibly this afternoon.

It still will be necessary for a Supreme Court justice to authorize another stay for the 20-year-old Leggett, but this customarily is done in appeals as a matter of course.

Any stay would be effective while the high court again considers the case.

The new appeal for Leggett is being taken under a 1957 act—not yet fully tested in the courts—which provides that a court of original jurisdiction—in this instance Pulaski Circuit Court—may review a conviction after affirmation by a higher court if new matters are presented which were not disposed of or waived at the original trial.

Bailey contended that Leggett was denied the right to be confronted by witnesses at his trial which resulted in imposition of the death sentence. The review petition cited the fact that not all of the State Hospital staff testified although a hospital report on Leggett's mental competency was introduced in evidence as the opinion of the staff.

Kirby last month denied the petition for review, and last Friday set today's hearing at Bailey's request to decide whether to grant an appeal.

Judge Huff Case Before High Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today took under submission a suit involving a controversial legislative measure designed to restrict the authority of Circuit Judge C. Floyd Huff of Hot Springs.

A decision in the case could be handed down as early as next Monday.

The bill sought to remove from Huff sole authority to appoint jury commissioners in his district, composed of Garland and Montgomery Counties.

Gov. Orval Faubus vetoed the bill.

Prosecuting Attorney W. J. Herbert of Hot Springs charged that Faubus had not acted within the required period and that the bill had become law without the governor's signature.

Pulaski Chancery Court ruled that Faubus had acted within the required time, that the veto was valid and the bill therefore void. Herbert appealed.

Circuit judges now appoint the three commissioners who select jury panels in each county. Under the dispute bill, Huff would have to share this authority in his district with the county judge and chancellor. He could appoint one commissioner and the other officials each would appoint one. No other judicial circuit would be affected.

State Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs was a sponsor of such a measure in the Senate at the 1957 Legislature, but the bill which passed both branches and became the basis for the lawsuit was a House measure introduced by Rep. Ode Maddox of Montgomery County.

The Supreme Court reconvened today after a holiday recess of two weeks. It did not hand down any decisions but took a group of cases under submission.

Newspaper Reports Spa Gambling

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Democrat said today that "the word is out" that large scale gambling will be resumed at Hot Springs this week.

The Democrat, in a special dispatch from Hot Springs, reported that Wednesday night had been set as the opening day.

The newspaper said that two Central Avenue establishments were operating on a limited scale Saturday night, offering dice and blackjack games.

According to the newspaper account, the Pines on the Little Rock Highway reportedly will open for business Wednesday and its "success in the opening is expected to be a signal for other large casinos to follow suit."

Hot Springs is a "sometimes open, sometimes closed, resort city" as far as gambling is concerned. The big casinos have not operated since January, 1957, when Walter J. Herbert took office as prosecuting attorney.

The Democrat news story, written by Reporter Bob Trout, did not say what might have caused the reported impending loosening of controls in the resort.

Montgomery Ward Clerks Out on Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clerks in a number of Montgomery Ward & Co. retail stores went out on strike today across the nation.

The Retail Clerks International Union said possibly a dozen stores were struck this morning and the number would be increased gradually as the walkout progressed. The union would not give a list of affected stores immediately.

The dispute is over negotiation of a new contract, with wage rates, hours and the union shop the key issues.

While only a few of Montgomery Ward stores were struck, a union spokesman here said all company stores are being subjected to "informational picketing."

He said under such picketing, clerks who are RCIA members continue going to work, the purpose of the picketing being to advise to the public that a dispute is in progress.

In Chicago, a company spokesman said stores were reported at stores in Kansas City, Kan., and Fulton, N. Y.

He said about one half of the bargaining unit members at Fulton and about two thirds of those at Kansas City, Kan., reported for work as usual.

Mrs. Dorothy Long Stewart of the union's Local 792 in Kansas City said about one half of those in the bargaining unit are not members of the union, and some union members reported for work before pickets were posted.

Valley, Corpus Christi Area Worst Hit

DALLAS (AP) — A surge of destructive weather sent up to 1,800 persons fleeing their flooded homes in south Texas and stranded as many as 500 motorists in snow in west and northwest Texas last night and today.

Worst hit from floods were the lower Rio Grande Valley at the southern tip of Texas, and areas around Corpus Christi, about 130 miles up the Gulf of Mexico coast.

The snows which stranded motorists fell from the Marfa area in Texas' Big Bend north for 300 miles or so into the Plainview area in the south plains, and on into New Mexico. Lesser snows fell farther north and drifted as much as three feet in some areas.

The turbulent weather sent waves crashing into Padre Island, a long, low, sand-built island that runs for 120 miles along the Texas coast. Eight persons were stranded overnight on the island and the Coast Guard dropped food and water to them.

Two Navy helicopters evacuated eight from Padre today.

At mid-morning, water was not appreciably receding in the lower Rio Grande Valley city of Edinburg, which was worst hit by the high water.

It was draining somewhat elsewhere. The slow runoff in the flat country meant, officials said, that most of the 400 or so evacuated in Edinburg could not return to their homes until tomorrow.

Five hundred persons were taken from their flooded homes at Bishop and 500 at Houston, in the Corpus Christi area yesterday.

The water spread over 71 blocks in Edinburg, mostly in residential sections of small, wooden houses built close to the ground. Water there was more than knee deep.

The water covered the area as far as they could see and remained there still and unmoving. There was no current.

The water from the Edinburg area was expected to move on to the Alamo area, where some flooding is expected.

The State Highway Department said most main roads were open by mid-morning in the snow covered west Texas area and all were due to be open by noon.

Two truck drivers, trying to reach Kent, Tex., reported their vehicles jackknifed on the icy roads, further blocking persons seeking to leave Pecos.

Group Declares Military Is Out of Step

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—A civilian study group says the nation's strategy and military forces are out of step with the tempo of the missile age and need big changes.

Defense spending should be increased about three billion dollars each year for the next several years, said a special 21-man panel of the Rockefeller Brothers Fund.

Summing up findings in a study which began in 1956, the panel concluded among other things that:

1. Strategy "lags behind developments in technology" and "the United States is rapidly losing its lead in the race of military technology." The lag in missiles and space machines "reflects our national complacency."

2. Strategy, as evolved by the Joint Chiefs of Staff, is "a patchwork of compromise" among the rival armed forces. The Joint Chiefs of Staff "functions too often as a committee of pariahs, adversaries engaged in advancing service strategic plans and compromising service differences." The panel said the JCS chairman "should be in a position to shape strategic planning," with the other members merely advising him. It added the secretary of defense now is compelled to devote much of his time to acting as a referee in service disputes.

3. Combined commands should be created, in which land, sea and air units would come under a single commander with the composition of the combined force patterned to the mission it would perform.

No longer would the chiefs of staff of the services direct military operations of their services. The departments of the Army, Navy and Air Force would become agencies for recruiting and training men and procuring and distributing equipment and supplies.

Even more startling to the observers of military tradition was the group's proposal that all officers above one-star rank could be identified with an individual service, becoming officers "of the armed forces of the United States."

This non-governmental assessment of what's wrong with defense, issued last night in a 15,000-word report, became available to the public while the White House kept secret the report of its own presidentially picked Galtier committee.

The 21-man panel, headed by Nelson A. Rockefeller, included scientists, former diplomats, former defense officials and military officers, industrialists, atomic experts, educators, publishers and a labor union representative.

Kentucky was formed into a county of Virginia in 1776; was admitted to the Union as a state in 1792.

News Outlook Around World During 1958

By HARLES M. MCCANN UP Staff Correspondent

United Press correspondents around the world look ahead at the probable course of world events in 1958.

WAR No war unless the Kremlin goes insane or makes a fatal blunder. Soviet Russian leaders are fully aware of allied retaliatory power. The Middle East is the big danger area. Anything could happen there. A small shooting war could spread into a big one.

COLD WAR No let-up in sight. On the contrary, Washington expects Russia to put on more heat as the day approaches for installing missile bases in Europe. European officials are more hopeful that tension may be eased.

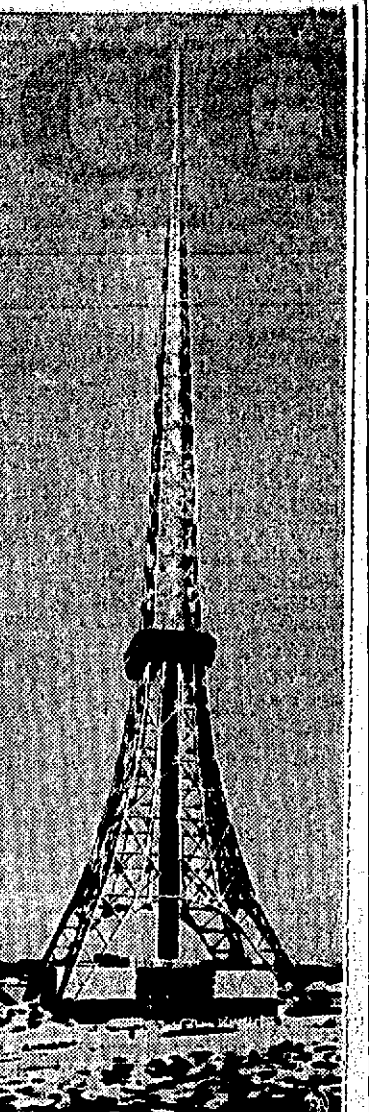

"SUMMIT" CONFERENCE Pressure on the Eisenhower administration for a meeting, which might lead to lessening of tension, is growing and will continue to grow. Allied governments and some American political leaders are exerting the pressure. Belief in Washington is that a meeting some time in 1958 would not be surprising provided advance soundings gave any hope for success. European officials are more optimistic. Eight out of nine experts predict a meeting.

MISSILES American military men look for substantial progress this year in the race with Russia. But Russia will make progress, too, and the relative standing at the end of 1958 is problematical. United States missilemen hope the Thor and Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missiles may be operational by the end of 1958. Optimists hope the Atlas and Titan intercontinental ballistic missiles may be put into operation in 1959. The Navy's Polaris IRBM program will be pressed. It could show sensational progress.

DOMESTIC POLITICS Differences between the Democratic majority in Congress and the administration over conduct of foreign policy will continue to harass the United States, despite efforts to minimize partisanship in this field. Furthermore, all indications point toward a substantial further Democratic gain in the November congressional elections. So this situation is expected to prevail until the 1960 presidential election at least.

RED CHINA

Washington does not expect the United States to recognize Communist China this year or to agree to its admittance to the United Nations. If the Peiping government freed the six Americans known to be imprisoned in Red China, it would be a smart move. But there would have to be a complete change in climate before recognition was granted. Furthermore, the administration is not willing to run the risk of TRANSPLANTED?—Strongly resembling the Eiffel Tower, this new TV station in Tokyo, Japan, shown here in artist's sketch, will be the second largest structure in the world when it is completed in December, 1958. It will rise 1,082 feet, almost 100 feet taller than the Paris landmark and second only to New York's Empire State Building, 1,472 feet high.

cations point toward a substantial further Democratic gain in the November congressional elections. So this situation is expected to prevail until the 1960 presidential election at least.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dr. L. B. Golden, 64, director of state-city mission work for the Arkansas Baptist State Convention, died in a hospital here yesterday. Golden formerly was pastor at Corning, Columbia, Miss.; Festus, Mo.; Memphis and Greenville, Tenn.; and at Tulsa, Okla. Survivors include his widow and a daughter. Funeral services will be held here tomorrow, with burial at Dallas, Tex.

undercutting such staunch allies as the Philippines, Thailand and South Viet Nam—as well as Nationalist China.

H-BOMB POWER

London expects an official announcement any day that Britain has completed the first step in taming and harnessing the power of the Hydrogen bomb for peaceful purposes.

MAN OF THE YEAR

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who was 62 Sunday, is likely to be Europe's man of the year. He is preparing now to sound out Russia on the possibility of East-West talks to reduce tension. He may be the man to break the ice.

FASHION

Some Paris fashion circles expect hemlines to go up still farther in 1958. Extremists believe they may go all the way to the knee again.

SPORTS OUTLOOK

Further revision of the major league "baseball map" is expected to make the biggest sports news of 1958. Most likely franchise shift is that of the Cincinnati Redlegs to New York. Minneapolis, with a spacious new stadium and a big population area to draw from, is an even money bet to get the Washington Senators. Both these franchise shifts may be consummated at the end of the 1958 season.

SUES—Maura FitzGibbon, 21-year-old actress and model, has filed suit for $75,000 damages against the Los Angeles (Cal.) Athletic Club and police officer William Friedman, who arrested her and her companion, actor Errol Flynn, on a drunk charge when they attended a ball at the Athletic Club in October. The suit charged false arrest, false imprisonment, battery and malicious prosecution. Flynn has a similar suit pending for $250,000.

Clarksville Peach Shed Burns Down

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A large wooden peach shed at the near by Lundwig community and destroyed by fire yesterday, and an insurance man estimated the loss of the shed and equipment inside at $20,000.

The shed was owned by Mrs. Gene Tolbert, who operates an 80-acre peach orchard at Ludwig, about three miles northeast of here.

The destroyed equipment included a pickup truck, a tractor, several trailers, a grading machine and $5,000 worth of baskets. Origin of the fire was unknown.

Pulaski Courthouse
Fire Empties Floor

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Fire broke out in an elevator shaft of the Pulaski County courthouse today, forcing evacuation of the third and fourth floors but causing no injuries.

Firemen extinguished the blaze in about 5 minutes.

No estimate of loss was available, but firemen said damage was mainly from smoke and water and would not be heavy.

Dense smoke seeped through the third and fourth floors and electric power went off for a time.

Origin of the fire was not determined.

Firemen used aerial ladders to reach the skylight of the elevator shaft, then poured water on the fire underneath.

Flames also spread through the wall of the shaft into a room housing elevator power equipment. That fire was quickly doused.

The fourth floor houses the Civil Division of Municipal Court, the library and county school offices. Offices on the third floor include two divisions of Chancery Court, the chancery clerk's office and the offices of the prosecuting attorney.

Faubus' School Group
Meets Wednesday

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus has directed his Advisory Committee on Education to meet here Wednesday to re-evaluate Arkansas' situation in light of the current emphasis on science.

The governor, who will address the committee, said Saturday that recent "developments in science and technology which are focusing a strong spotlight of attention on elementary, secondary and higher education in this country, make the task of GACE even more important."

Lee Roy Beasley of El Dorado is chairman of the committee.

Runaway Auto

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A RUNAWAY AUTOMOBILE Y RAN A-WAY YESTERDAY SMASHED INTO TWO GASOLINE PUMPS AT A SERVICE STATION HERE, KNOCKED A 2-WHEEL TRAILER 40 YARDS AND FINALLY CAME TO REST INSIDE A LIQUOR STORE.

Owners of the wrecked property estimated damage at $10,000.

Police identified the driver of the car as Glyn Deese, 22, of North Little Rock and said he would be charged with reckless driving. Deese was taken to a Little Rock hospital but he was not believed seriously hurt.

Men Acquitted Who Claimed to Be Beaten

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP)—Two men, who said they were beaten by a Lee County deputy sheriff, were acquitted of petty larceny charges in municipal court here Saturday.

Frank Pugh, 22, and Troy Hardin, 17, both of Marianna, were arrested in connection with the theft of fender skirts from a parked car. They were taken to the jail here after they said Chief Deputy Sheriff Walker of Marianna handcuffed them, took them into some woods and beat them in an attempt to gain a confession.

Walker subsequently was fired by Lee County Sheriff Courtney Langston.

Arkansas Girl May
Survive Blood Disease

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Arlene Louton of Malvern, Ark., may become one of the few persons to survive a rare blood disorder which caused her to bleed at the calves of the legs, a spokesman at Barnes Hospital here said last night.

The 14-year-old girl was brought to Barnes in mid-November because the drug used to treat the blood clots in her legs was in short supply in Arkansas.

The hospital spokesman said the blood disorder appeared to be arrested now and that the principal concern was whether it might break out in other parts of her body.

Arlene may be permitted to go home when plastic surgeons complete the process of removing dead skin from her legs and replacing it with new skin.

DOROTHY DIX

Girl's Baffling —
Man Is a Brute

Dear Dorothy Dix: Several years ago I met and fell in love with a wonderful guy. A year later we had a beautiful baby daughter. Since this has happened, he joined the army, did his tour of duty overseas and is now back on this side. He has for the past two years been begging me to write him, and I have done so. He has never done anything for me — except to hurt me. Now he wants to make up for the trouble he's caused me. What is your opinion of a guy like this?

CANDY: Dear Candy: It's easy enough to form an opinion about the guy, but you baffle me!

He, of course, is anxious to have your friendship (or love), without incurring any obligation. He figures it's easy enough; you let him escape responsibility before; you'll do it again. If he can get away with letting mail substitute for all he owes you and your baby, fine and dandy.

But — how do you happen to let him get away with so much? I should the deal he handed you. I should think you would expect something better than letters. If he really wants to make it up to you, a wedding band is the best means of atonement.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I've been married three months and my husband is still attached to his mother's apron strings. He compares my cooking, housekeeping, and money management to his mother's. I'm about to develop an inferiority complex. GERALDINE: Dear Geraldine: Try to realize that he spent 23 years with his mother, enjoying her cooking, and housekeeping, etc., and has been with you only three months. Men are creatures of habit; they need time to adjust to new surroundings. Be a little patient and try not to feel resentful. That's how bad in-law relationships are made. Hubby isn't very smart, don't you be equally dumb.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm in love with my father's sister's son. We have been fond of each other since childhood. Are we too closely related for marriage? CYNTHIA: Dear Cynthia: To simplify matters, you're in love with your cousin. Whether or not you're too closely related for marriage is a matter for your clergyman, doctor and a lawyer to decide. Some religions, some states permit such marriages; others do not.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I've read your column for a long time and realize how many girls need help, besides the ones you help. If any of them (or men), want a suggestion, I have one. I've found one source of help that never fails, namely, prayer. No matter what your religion you can pray for help at any time. Dear L. N.: The soundest advice ever, and I have passed it on for years. I'm glad to do so now.

Truck Recovered
But Not the Owner

CLARENDON, Ark. (AP)—A pickup truck was recovered from a water-filled ditch near here yesterday but police said they found no trace of the owner. Dean Oxner of Marianna, who vanished Christmas day, was the driver.

Sheriff J. K. McKenzie said the truck was found in 15 feet of water after a group of hunters spotted tire tracks leading from U. S. Highway 79 to an embankment high above the ditch about four miles west of here.

Claims Plan for Missile
Sub Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover told the Senate Preparedness subcommittee today the Navy's high command rejected a recommendation from him two years ago for construction of a missile-firing atomic submarine.

Rickover, who guided the development of atomic undersea craft, said he had not originally proposed that nuclear submarines be equipped to fire ballistic missiles.

But two years ago, he said, he became convinced that such a project would be feasible and recommended that it be started.

Rickover testified behind closed doors but a briefing on his testimony was given reporters by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), the subcommittee chairman.

Johnson said the admiral told the senators his recommendation was "turned down by the Navy's submarine officers."

Edwin L. Weisl, subcommittee counsel, said Rickover was talking about the Navy's "high command."

Newspaperwoman
Dies at Harrison

HARRISON, Ark. (AP)—Miss Lona James, 77, a newspaper woman here for 50 years until she retired two years ago, died at her home Saturday night.

Miss James in 1903 joined the staff of the then weekly Harrison Times as a hand typesetter and later worked in the same capacity with the old Boone Banner. More recently she reported local and society news for the daily Harrison Times and the weekly Boone County Headlight.

A sister, Mrs. Verdie Hedger of Harrison, survives.

The Soviet Union announced another cut of 1,200,000 men in its armed forces in mid-1955, and another of 640,000 in 1956.

Western intelligence sources said they never had evidence beyond the Kremlin's own word, however, that the slashes actually were carried out, and estimated that the Soviet still had a huge defense establishment.

The Tass news report also said more than 17,000 men will be withdrawn from Hungarian units they will be brought back to Soviet territory and disbanded, the broadcast said.

The announcement followed a statement by Nikita Khrushchev, Soviet party boss, on the day before Christmas that Russia was considering a reduction in its armed forces and arms expenditures.

He said Russia could do this because of the "development of science and engineering in our country" but that in absence of a disarmament agreement with the West both armed manpower and

No Right to Expel,
Says John L. Lewis

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis says the AFL-CIO hasn't the right to expel "hundreds of thousands of wage earners" because their union leaders are accused of corruption.

Lewis, whose United Mine Workers union is not part of the big labor federation, took issue with the AFL-CIO for ousting the Teamsters and other unions on corruption grounds.

Appearing on a television program, Lewis said, "I think expelling great unions with vast membership is merely shooting the dog to remove the tick. There is no police power invested in the AFL-CIO. We have laws to deal with corruption."

A&M Talking to Meyers of Iowa State

HOUSTON (AP)—Iowa State football coach Jim Meyers left this weekend for Philadelphia and the NCAA convention after holding a weekend conference with authorities at Texas A&M College.
The Houston Post said Meyers was a leading contender for the A&M coaching job vacated by Paul (Bear) Bryant, who went to Alabama.
Both Meyers and Dr. Chris Groneman, chairman of the A&M athletic council, refused to comment.
The Post said it appeared certain that Texas A&M would have a new coach by the time of the conclusion of the meeting Wednesday.
Meyers took over at Iowa State last year and guided the club to a 4-5-1 record. Iowa State lost eight games in 1956.
Others said to be in the running for the College Station job, the Post said, were Darrell Ward of Colorado and Jack Curtice of Utah.

Emergency Fee Set by UA Hospital

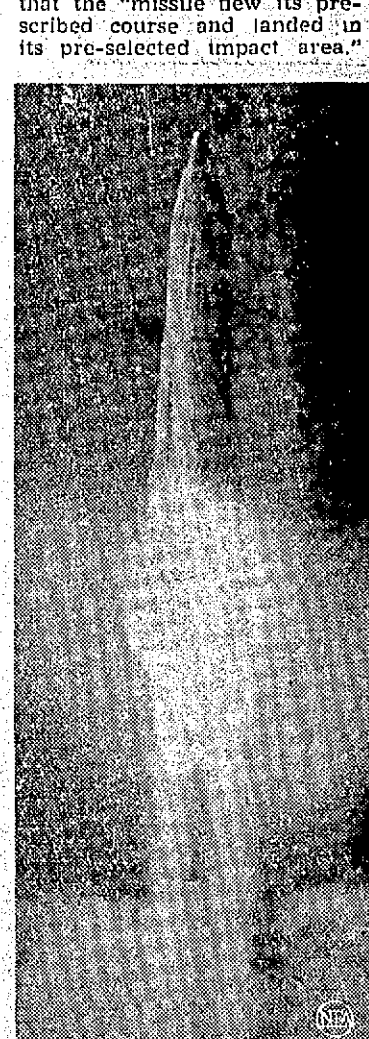

Little Rock (AP) — The University of Arkansas Board of trustees has approved a fee for all patients using the Medical Center emergency room, and directed an emergency campaign for private funds to help finance for clinical research wing at the center here.
The board, meeting in Little Rock Saturday, approved a flat fee of $2 per emergency patient because the trustees said doctors had found that any so-called emergency cases were not real emergencies.
"Of course," a spokesman explained, "any real emergency would be treated regardless of whether the patient had the money but the fee should help take the pressure off to emergency facilities."

Howdy Doody Celebrates 10th Birthday

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—In television a decade is like a century. So it's certainly worth noting that Howdy Doody has celebrated its 10th birthday. The children's program on Saturday mornings has rolled up more individual performances than any show in the history of television—2,200. But no statistics can measure the delight it has brought to youngsters.
In the words of the program's lifelong producer, Roger Murr: "We don't worry so much about the Nielsen audience rating as we do about the national birth rating." Since the birthrate shows no signs of decline, there is no reason to expect a decline in the weekly audience of Howdy Doody.
Murr believes that Howdy Doody has survived so healthily thanks chiefly to "Buffalo Bob" Smith—a real showman and great performer without the temperamental factor that causes problems.
Another factor in its long life, he feels, has been its keeping abreast of general TV audience desires and programming developments. "The current interests of adults are reflected in children," he says.
Just as important, he says, is the fact that "we have always played to a changing receptive audience. The kids we're playing to now weren't born when the program started. And the audience we can presume to have in the future hasn't been born yet."

Security to Take Up Plan of Stassen

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Security Council was expected today to take up Harold E. Stassen's proposals to make U. S. disarmament policy more flexible.
The No. 1 item in those proposals, which could be Stassen's swan song as President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser, was reported to be a suggested change concerning nuclear tests.
At present, the United States insists that any agreement to halt nuclear tests should carry with it an inspection system to guarantee that nuclear weapons production is stopped also. Stassen's idea, it was said, was to drop this proviso, permitting an end to nuclear testing without requiring a halt also in atom bomb making.
Secretary of State Dulles and others in the administration, including Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission, were said to be strongly opposed.
Presumably the council was concerned also with the draft reply by Eisenhower to the letter he received last month from Soviet Premier Bulganin. Eisenhower's reply must go to Paris by Wednesday. There it will be considered by the North Atlantic Treaty Council, along with similar replies from other Western heads of government, before be-

RAIN OR SHINE—A huge, 20-million-dollar rolltop-roofed auditorium, shown in architect's drawings above, will be the most spectacular project in Pittsburgh's current redevelopment program. Its dome-shaped roof, left, will be 415 feet in diameter and will be tall enough to house a 10-story building beneath its highest point. In clear, warm weather the top can be rolled back, right, to expose the sky. Seat sections and the 114-foot wide stage will be movable so that varied functions can be held in the auditorium. Seating capacity will run from 7,113 for operas and concerts to 13,640 for boxing, wrestling and conventions. Construction of the "beat the elements" building is expected to get under way in April.

CURB SERVICE—The problem of squeezing into tight parking spaces is made simple with a new device called the "Slider," invented by engineer Archie Butterworth of Frimley Green, Surrey, England. To park a car equipped with the invention, the driver steers the front end into the curb. At the press of a dashboard button, a hydraulic undercarriage with two rubber disks (arrows) is lowered, raising the rear wheels from the ground. Powered by the car's transmission, the disks spin and move the car sideways into the parking space. Low gear swings the rear one way, and reverse the other.

THE STORY: As a gunshot wound he received on the trail, is being treated in Yreka, Ward Sebastian hears the soldiers have arrived to quell an uprising of Modocs.

CHAPTER VII

Jeff Chesbro was talking with considerable vehemence to the officer who accompanied the girl in the chair. As Sebastian came up, Jeff turned, plainly more than half angry.
"Sorry to drag you away from rest and food, Ward, but Captain Dillon here was insistent that he see you. Meet him. And—Miss Ashland."

The officer's handshake was brief, perfunctory, leaving the impression that it was purely a mechanical, not a natural courtesy. Sebastian looked past him at the girl.
"My privilege, Miss Ashland. I know a Major Ashland. He was on station at Fort Klammath."

"My uncle," she said.
"Captain Dillon," Jeff Chesbro said, "brings a somewhat unusual request, Ward. Demand is even a better word."
Capt. Judson Dillon was thin-faced, darkly handsome, with coal-black eyes holding the hard shine of an authority weighty to the border line of arrogance.
"I am faced with the necessity of putting through a transport detail to Tule Lake in the shortest possible time. This automatically rules out wagons in favor of a pack train. I have some service animals available, but not enough to handle the detail properly. How many mules, Mr. Sebastian, are you prepared to furnish me?"
Here was a thorough-going military martinet, one with little patience or regard for anything civilian.
"Perhaps you did not understand me, Mr. Sebastian. I did not ask, would you? I asked, how many?"
"I told you—none!"
A faint silence fell, broken by the rustling of Connie Ashland's cloak as she stirred restlessly. She was a fairly tall girl, full of a mental and physical vigor which made it impossible for her to be a negative quantity. Now, as she watched the clash of wills between these two men blaze and grow, a deepening concern held her.

Captain Dillon spoke again, his ing transmitted to Moscow. Bulganin proposed, among other things, an end to nuclear testing and a high-level East-West conference to outlaw war.
British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan indicated his letter might suggest an East-West non-aggression pact, which the Russians also have proposed.
U. S. officials were cool to Macmillan's suggestion.

Hoffa Started Having Trouble Last July

By ROBERT FARRINGTON

NEW YORK (AP)—One hot day last July two men walked into a midtown lawyer's office.

The lawyer was a high-priced specialist who had fought for management against unions for years. The men were lifelong union members trying to get free help in breaking the iron dictatorship of their leaders.
That was the unlikely start of a court fight that may rob James R. Hoffa of a 20 year goal all but 1 1/2 million member International in his grasp: the presidency of the Brotherhood of Teamsters.
A federal court in Washington is investigating a charge brought on by that July meeting that Hoffa was elected by hand-picked convention delegates. Meanwhile, he cannot take office.

The meeting also led to formation of a committee, a rank-and-file revolt and a cleanup spirit which prevailed when the AFL-CIO ousted the Teamsters for corruption early in December.
The two men who walked into the lawyer's office that July afternoon and sparked the revolt were John Cunningham and Patrick Kennedy, who delivered milk around the city.
They had been battling to clean up their union for more than a decade, but had gotten nowhere.

They admired the lawyer, Godfrey P. Schmidt, for a first-class legal licking he handed the Teamster hierarchy last year in an intra-union fight.
Eventually, members of five Teamster locals wound up in Schmidt's office. All had the same complaint: They never had a chance to say who would represent them in voting for the Teamsters' top officers at the convention.

Schmidt, a small, thin-lipped, grey-haired, precise man, did some checking. He says the same pattern was reported to him and allegation that convention delegates had been hand-picked by local officers friendly to Hoffa.

ing in today and what it will probably be tomorrow. I'm leaving early so that I can reach Mike Galloway's ranch before full dark, and spread my blankets under cover. If you want to pull out late, and put in tomorrow night in a wet, cold camp, that's your business. But don't try and hold me to such a deal, because I won't stand for it."
Under the whip of Sebastian's words, Capt. Judson Dillon drew himself up, jammed straight.
"Very well. In the morning, then, shall we go, Connie?"
The girl followed him out, her head high.

Gas Blasts, Fires Destroy Block of City

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Natural gas explosions erupted from underground lines yesterday and set off fires that destroyed most of a city block near Capitol Square.
Simultaneous explosions blew the front out of an auto body shop and caused minor damage at Truax Field, an Air Force base on the city's East Side.

A middle-aged couple were killed when their house blew up. Fire Chief Edward J. Page said damage might total a million dollars.

William Rössler of the state fire marshal's office said failure of a regulator valve sent gas under high pressure into lines equipped for low-pressure loads. Explosions occurred where gas seeped through weak points.

Jagged cracks were ripped in pavement in the Bassett Street area and flames shot upward. Firemen kept the flames contained within a square block. It took 15 hours to bring them under control.

William McGrath, 63, a grocery employee, died in a hospital several hours after an explosion destroyed his home. His wife, 34, who was in a second-floor bedroom, was killed.

McGrath said his wife had asked him to investigate a smoky smell coming from the basement and he was part way downstairs when the blast occurred.

Theron A. Brown, superintendent of the Madison Gas and Electric Co., said his crewmen had checked out the last report of a suspected gas leak. He assured residents they had no need to worry about further explosions. More than 10 blocks were closed off as crewmen chopped up streets in search of possible leaks.

At one point, some 200 persons were evacuated. They returned late in the day.

More than 200 ice-covered firemen from Madison's eight companies battled the fires. Three companies extinguished the fire at the Hanson Auto Body Co., where one explosion and fire occurred, and then sped to the Bassett Street area, where the McGrath home was located.

Page, who lives two blocks from the Bassett block, had just gone to bed when he heard the blasts.

help me, the flames were so bright you could read a newspaper in my dining room without a light on," he said.

"No matter where you looked there was fire," he said. "Flames were shooting 100 feet into the air, and sparks and debris were carrying all the way over the next block."

Destroyed were a body shop; the Hyland-Hall Building occupied by heating contractors and an electric company; a drugstore, a grocery store; a three-story brick building containing university student rooms and apartments and upholstery and furniture firms; and two single family dwellings.
